LARGE CROWDS OF BRAZILIANS IN DISORDERS

German-Owned Shops Are Stormed by Throngs Inflamed by Ship Sinkings

AXIS ASSETS ORDERED SEIZED IN REPRISAL

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 12 (AP). — Furious throngs of Brazilians stormed big German department stores and other Axis enterprises on Rio's main avenues today in hours of rioting, after this largest Latin American republic had advanced to the edge of war by seizing many assets of German, Japanese and Italian subjects.

Inflamed by the sinking of four Brazilian ships, crowds shattered the show windows of German department stores, ripped out window and counter displays and forced other German firms to run up Brazilian flags.

Thousands milled in the broad thoroughfares, shouting "Kill them!" "Traitors!" "Dogs!"

HEAVY DAMAGE DONE

A sudden rainstorm and some 2,500 civil and military police finally dispersed the crowds in late afternoon after they had stormed German and Japanese businesses, causing heavy damage and injuring a few Axis nationals.

Police guarded the big German banks, Banco Allemao Transatlan-

AUTHORITY ON X-RAY IS DEAD

Sir William Bragg, O.M., Won Nobel Prize in 1915 For Physics

LONDON, March 12 (CP).—Sir William Bragg, O.M., seventy-nine, one of the world's greatest authorities on the X-ray, died today of a heart ailment.

With his son, Sir Lawrence Bragg, who is a member of the Government's Scientific Advisory Committee to strengthen the war effort, he received the Nobel Prize in 1915 for work on X-rays and crystal structure.

He attracted world-wide attention in 1928 when, as president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, he told that famous body in Glasgow that "man has a soul."

Sir William was born in Wington, Cumberland, in 1861 and was educated at King William's College, on the Isle of Man and at Trinity College, Cambridge.

IN SOUTH AUSTRALIA

In 1886 he went to Adelaide, South Australia, where he held the appointment of professor of mathematics and physics. Here he carried out his early researches on various radio-active phenomena.

In 1909 he was appointed Cavendish professor at Leeds University and in 1915 Quain professor of physics, at the University of London.

In 1920, when he was elected an honorary fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, he was created K.B.E., and in 1931 he received the coveted Order of Merit.

In 1923 he was appointed to be Fullerian professor of chemistry at the Royal Institution of Great Britain and director of the Davey-Faraday research laboratory. Subsequently he became director of the Royal Institution, a post he held at the time of his death.

Sending Food To Prisoners At Singapore

CANBERRA, March 12 (CP).—Premier John Curtin announced today that foodstuffs are being sent by Australia to Japanese-occupied Singapore in an effort to ensure the proper feeding of Australian prisoners.

"We were asked to send the stuff," the Premier said.

"It was put to us very straight that it had to be for everybody, including the native population. It goes into the common pool and the Japanese distribute it."

Firm Has Heavy Fine to Pay for Exceeding Quota

LONDON, March 12 (CP).—Woodlands Chemists, Ltd., was fined £40,000 ($160,000) today for exceeding its cosmetics sales quota under Britain's wartime rationing laws. The firm was given three months to pay.

ARMY RULES ARE ALTERED

Draftees Enrolled Less Than Three Months May Obtain Leave for Reason

OTTAWA, March 12 (CP).—Men called for compulsory military training who have been enrolled less than three months may be granted leave of absence for sufficient reason under amended Reserve Army regulations tabled in the House of Commons today by Defence Minister Ralston.

Agricultural organizations and some members of the House have asked for steps to provide that agricultural production shall not be hampered through calling men to military service when their place in farming operations is of vital importance.

The amending order in council tabled by Colonel Ralston provides that the leave may be granted "upon such circumstances, reasons or grounds being established as would have entitled him when called out ab initio to postponement of the commencement of his training" by reason of existing provisions.

BY REASON OF HARDSHIPS

He may also obtain leave by reason "of extreme hardship to those dependent upon such man."

The man desiring leave must first apply in writing to his officer commanding, giving the reasons on which the application is based, together with statements corroborating the facts. The application will be made by statutory declaration or attestation under oath and will be transmitted with the recommendation of the officer commanding to the district commanding, who may forward it, with his recommendation, to the appropriate National War Service Board.

The board may review the case and make recommendation to the district officer commanding as to the period of leave which may be granted. The proviso is made that whenever the exigencies of the military situation require leave be curtailed or refused, the district officer commanding may refer the board's recommendation to

MORE TROOPS ON WAY TO HIGHWAY

Two Trains of United States Soldiers To Work on Road Cross Into Canada

EDMONTON, Alta., March 12 (CP).—The fourth and fifth trains carrying United States troops and equipment to Dawson Creek, B.C., for work on the Alaska Highway passed through Edmonton late today. A crowd of civilians, a Royal Canadian Air Force Band and high-ranking Canadian Army and Air Force officials were on hand to greet the Americans.

The troops, several hundred strong, were dressed in gabardine parkas and sheep-skin caps, ready for the severest weather.

Their equipment, loaded in steel box cars, included trunks, "jeeps" and pontoons for crossing rivers.

Automobiles Turned In by Japanese

By sunset yesterday all automobiles in the possession of Japanese on Vancouver Island had been surrendered to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at the Willows Park cattle sheds. Shown above are the first cars surrendered by noon Thursday; No. 1, on left, the first passenger car turned in by a city Japanese, and others first of two convoys which arrived in the city from Up-Island during the day under Provincial Police escort.

Allied Air Power Marshalled for Heavier Attacks

Has Inflicted Heavy Loss on Japanese Invasion Fleets in Waters Off New Guinea — At Least Thirteen Enemy Transports Have Been Knocked Out Off Island's Coast

CANBERRA, March 12 (CP).—The Japanese, having suffered heavy losses among their initial invasion fleets in the waters of New Guinea north of the Australian mainland, appeared today to be taking breath for new efforts to consolidate and extend their positions on that island.

Allied air power, which was declared here to have dislocated the enemy's time table in two days of a strong, running counter-offensive, meantime was being marshaled for heavier attacks, particularly in defence of Port Moresby, the southernmost major New Guinea harbor lying only 300 miles above Cape York in Australia proper.

NO FURTHER WORD

There was no further word of new enemy convoys previously reported heading for Port Moresby.

A recapitulation indicated today that at least thirteen enemy trans-

B.C. LINK WITH ROAD IS URGED

Seattle Committee Will Confer Today With Premier John Hart

SEATTLE, March 12 (AP). — Seattle's Chamber of Commerce Alaskan Affairs Committee voted full support today to efforts in behalf of a proposed British Columbia link with the projected highway from Edmonton to Alaska.

A committee will confer tomorrow at Victoria with Premier John Hart of British Columbia.

For years, organizations in Washington and British Columbia have worked for a highway link to Vancouver, B.C., and Washington State with Alaska, with expectations of a new flow of tourists and commerce. Now, under United States Army plans for the highway, the road to tap the Northland will enter the United States far to the east.

ALTERNATIVE PROPOSAL

The alternative proposal on which Seattle civic groups now are working is for a link between Vancouver and the Alaskan Highway, via Prince George, B.C.

Advocates of the highway link said that present plans call for transportation by the Northern Alberta railway between Edmonton and Dawson Creek. They pointed out that a road from Dawson Creek, B.C., to Prince George would provide a highway route by which trucks and cars would be able to travel the full route between Alaska and the States.

FLYER AWARDED VICTORIA CROSS

F.O. Kenneth Campbell, of R.A.F., Honored for Suicide Torpedo Attack

LONDON, March 13 (Friday), (CP). —Flying Officer Kenneth Campbell, twenty-four, member of the Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve, has been awarded the Victoria Cross posthumously for his suicide torpedo attack on a battle cruiser, possibly the Scharnhorst, at Brest on April 6, 1941.

Neither Campbell nor the crew of his Beaufort, including the navigator, Sgt. James P. Scott, of Toronto, returned from the water-skimming flight carried out in the face of point-blank fire from anti-aircraft ships about the cruiser and a heavy concentration of anti-aircraft guns on the hills overlooking the harbor.

Campbell, veteran of many operations against enemy shipping, flew straight for the battle cruiser, which had left her dock the day before and tied up at the harbor wall behind the protective mole.

DAMAGED BELOW WATERLINE

The Beaufort skipped over the flak ships and the mole before flinging the torpedo, which heavily damaged the cruiser below the waterline, forcing her to return to the dock for repairs.

The citation said Campbell knew that if he succeeded in penetrating the formidable defences at a low level, it would be almost impossible to avoid crashing into the ground rising from the waterfront. It added: "Campbell displayed conscious bravery . . . valor of the highest order."

Nineteen-year-old Scott, one of the first Commonwealth Air Training Plan graduates to go on operations in Britain, had taken part in numerous flights over the North Sea.

FINNS LOSE HEAVILY

BERNE, March 12 (AP).—Doctor Frietsch, a member of the Finnish Parliament, was reported today to have declared in Stockholm that the Finns have lost more men in the present campaign against Russia than in the 1939-40 war, when 66,000 casualties were suffered. He was quoted as saying that certain Finnish cities were threatened with the loss of their entire male population.

NO GASOLINE FOR PLEASURE

Great Britain Closing Down On Sports and Private Motoring

LONDON, March 12 (AP).—Britain's wartime pleasures were curtailed tonight by a Government that has pledged itself to an all-out war effort and a tightening of activities along the home front.

Private motoring for fun will end July 1 for the duration; sports fans will get shorter rations of racing and boxing immediately.

The Government announced two measures, one to cut consumption of the gasoline which sailors risk their lives to bring home, and another to discourage sports events, which tempt war workers from their benches.

SOME RECREATION

It won't be all work and no play, however. For the time being there will be no further restrictions on theatres, cinemas, dancing or football.

Private motorists will be permitted no gasoline whatsoever after July 1 unless they can prove "genuine need."

Greyhound racing will be limited to one day a week at each track and then only on Saturdays and Sundays. Horse racing will be cut to less than 13 per cent of pre-war activity and restricted to a few tracks. Spectacular boxing bouts will be discouraged.

Reading the new regulation, most Britons said: "It's about time." Full car parks at sports events have been denounced repeatedly in press and Parliament.

It was explained there had been no shortage of oil for war purposes and that the new restrictions were imposed to make sure there will be none in the future.

U.S. SUBMARINE HAS GOOD SCORE

Sinks Four Ships in Western Pacific —Aerial Action Reported At Midway

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP).—A United States submarine venturing deep into Japanese territory was reported officially today to have sunk three enemy freighters and a passenger-cargo ship, raising to 149 the total of vessels of all types damaged or destroyed by United States forces in the Western Pacific.

This latest blow at Japan's ability to keep her far-flung forces supplied was matched, moreover, by a simultaneous announcement that two Japanese four-engined seaplanes had been intercepted by American fighters west of Midway Island Tuesday and was shot down.

Today's was the first word of enemy activity in the vicinity of Midway, 1,300 miles northwest of Pearl Harbor, since January 29, when a navy communique said two Japanese submarines had been driven off by artillery fire, which damaged one of the raiders.

State Funeral to Be Held Saturday

OTTAWA, March 12 (CP).—An official Ottawa party including Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Cabinet ministers, senators and representatives of other governments will leave by train early Saturday morning to attend the state funeral in Montreal of Rt. Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Government leader in the Senate, who died here last night.

Senator Dandurand's funeral will be held at St. Viateur Church, Outremont, Que., at 11 a.m. Saturday, and burial will be in Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

Damage to Gneisenau From British Bombs Proves to Be Severe

Photographs Disclose Extent of Battering Given in Dover Straits Battle—Britain's Aerial Strength Gaining Steadily, Declares Spokesman

LONDON, March 12 (CP).—An official source disclosed tonight that the battleship Gneisenau, which escaped to a German haven in the Dover Straits' battle of February 12, was badly battered and is undergoing repairs in a drydock.

The same source indicated that improved and faster types of bombers will carry the war to the Nazis despite the approach of shorter nights of Spring and Summer.

"There will be plenty of targets in the West to bomb no matter how long the war continues," this source said, scouting a suggestion that Germany is moving heavy industries eastward.

Even in peacetime it would take years to effect such a movement, this source said.

DECK PLATING REMOVED

Photographs have disclosed, he said, that the 26,000-ton Gneisenau, now at Kiel, has had her deck plating removed from turret "A" forward to her bow. Plating has also been removed on the port side of turret "B."

It is possible, he added, that the bomb damage is deeper than one deck down.

Concerning the continuing air offensive, the source said:

"The full-scale raids on Germany have started. The Essen attacks are comparable in weight to raids on Coventry, if not heavier . . . The total tonnage of bombs dropped on Germany is approaching the tonnage Germany dropped on the United Kingdom. Possibly within two months the R.A.F. will exceed the Luftwaffe bombs ton for ton."

The broad strategy dominating the Bomber Command's choice of

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1942, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, March 12 (By Cable).—Threat of invasion of Australia has come closer, says The Times' Canberra correspondent. The Japanese fleet has been seen heading for Port Moresby, capital of Papua, possession of which would give the enemy a base for cutting Australia's sea communication with Darwin as well as for attacking the mainland.

The Australian air force, aided by some United States flyers, is bombing New Guinea airfields and also Japanese shipping wherever it can be found. The enemy, it is now known, lost more than half of the convoy which captured Rabaul. Later convoys bringing reinforcements were heavily damaged.

Confidence that the Commonwealth can beat off Japanese landings is returning in Australia, where the whole population is mobilizing for war. General Sir Ivan MacKay, who commands the defence forces, says there is no pessimism, that the people have realized they must depend more on themselves and less on help from outside.

In anticipation of a Japanese attack on Russia, the Canberra Government is arranging immediate diplomatic relations with Moscow so as to facilitate Australian and Russian strategy.

Japan's dictator, General Tojo, threatens Australia with the same fate as the Dutch East Indies, and forecasts "elimination of all Anglo-Saxon influence from India."

Sir Stafford Cripps' mission, therefore, becomes of the highest importance at this time. Editorially, The Times says that it constitutes new hope for India. The political initiative there has been regained, and must not be lost, as its retention is one of the main conditions of regaining the military initiative.

Sir Stafford, adds the newspaper, has shown great political courage in undertaking a mission to endeavor to settle terms between the rival parties for the vast subcontinent's future. Parliament has shown every confidence in him.

A furious battle for air control in the Central Mediterranean, says The Times' Cairo correspondent, has been proceeding over Malta lately. As many as 100 Axis aircraft at one time have been trying to destroy the island's airdromes and naval defences. The object is evidently to prevent Malta's use as a base for attacks on Axis convoys intended for Libya. The Royal Air Force, however, substantially reinforced, has been a match for its assailants.

Spitfires now participate in battles which occur daily and Maltese risk their lives to see these marvelous machines in the air. British losses have been small, but the enemy has lost forty aircraft in nine days. Luftwaffe bombers, though guarded by fighters, have turned back to Sicily when British fighters have chased them.

Break Strongly Held German Positions and Seize Important Junction Points — Berlin Admits Mass Attack Puts Invaders' Armies Entirely on Defensive in Orel Sector

Clean-Up of Staraya Russa Is Essential to Programme

LONDON, March 12 (AP).—The Soviet Southern Armies were reported attacking 1,500,000 strong tonight on the southern front from the Sea of Azov northward of Kharkov in the Ukraine, and other great Russian offensives were breaking the German lines at vital points all the way up to Lake Ilmen on the front south of Leningrad.

In the south, Marshal Timoshenko was declared to have cast more than ninety armored and infantry divisions into the great struggle, his immediate objectives being Kharkov, Stalino and Taganrog, and his apparent ultimate aim to throw the invader back across the Dnieper River, tearing from him every lodgment from which he might attempt to mount a fair-weather drive toward the Caucasus oil fields.

Tonight's regular Soviet communique said "our troops, breaking the resistance of the German Fascists, continued to advance and in certain sectors of the front occupied several populated places."

IN DEADLY FIGHTING

Advices from the front said the Russians had broken strongly-held German lines at several places and seized two large junction points in two days of deadly fighting that forced the Nazis to call vainly on reserves.

Exact locations were not identified.

Simultaneously, heavy Soviet tank forces were smashing ahead in the Orel sector 20 miles north of Kharkov.

The German High Command admitted over the Berlin radio that the Russians had broken through the line northeast of Orel and that the mass attack had put the Germans entirely on the defensive.

On the central front, Red Army

Beaverbrook May Not Go to Washington Churchill Discloses

LONDON, March 12 (CP).—Prime Minister Churchill disclosed today that a projected production co-ordination mission by Lord Beaverbrook in the United States has been canceled and that it is uncertain whether Lord Beaverbrook will go to Washington.

In his first official statement on the function of the Ministry of Production since Oliver Lyttleton replaced Lord Beaverbrook as its head, the Prime Minister informed the House of Commons that the Production and Labor Ministries would share responsibility for the allocation of Britain's labor power.

ESCAPED GERMAN PRISONERS CAUGHT

One Seized When Attempting to Steal Plane From Training School

OSHAWA, Ont., March 12 (CP).—A daring attempt by an escaped Nazi prisoner of war to steal a plane of the Royal Canadian Air Force was foiled today with the capture of the German airman, one of two who escaped from the nearby Bowmanville officers' camp last night.

Frederick Oeser was caught by an instructor at No. 20 Elementary Flying Training School three miles northeast of here as he was about to take down a flying suit. About an hour earlier, the second of the two prisoners, Bidward Fidieg, surrendered at a farmhouse on the eastern outskirts of the city.

Oeser told his captor, identified only as a link trainer instructor named Bowman, that he intended to steal one of the planes on the field and fly it to an isolated spot in the United States.

Thieves Take Their Pick of War Salvage

NORTH BAY, Ont., March 12 (CP). —North Bay's war salvage warehouse was entered and ransacked last night by thieves, who sorted out and took only the most valuable materials, police said today. Coils of copper wire, bars of lead and quantities of copper and brass and baled magazines disappeared with the thieves.

EIGHT BRITISH KILLED IN CLASH ON BORDER

PESHAWAR, India, March 13 (Friday), (CP).—British troops and Indian constabulary were reported today to have killed eight or more hostile tribesmen in a clash along the rugged northwestern frontier near the Khyber Pass. British losses were put at eight dead and fourteen wounded.

Four Ships Sunk in Caribbean Area by Marauding U-Boats

Captain of One Reports Sighting Vessel Believed To Be Mother Ship for Submarines— Many Survivors Landed

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP).—The sinking of four vessels in or near the Caribbean area was disclosed today, and survivors of one told of seeing a craft which they believed was a supply ship for Axis submarines.

The lost ships were the United States steamship Oregon, two vessels identified only as a medium-sized British tanker and a small Swedish freighter, and a fourth described merely as a "vessel."

Two men were known to be dead as a result of the attacks, and perhaps eleven missing.

The craft identified only as "a vessel" was torpedoed last Friday

WAR MATERIALS FLOW IMPEDED

Howe Asserted to Have Refused U.S. Goods Transit Over Canadian Roads

DETROIT, March 12 (AP).—Harvey J. Campbell, vice-chairman and executive secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce, telegraphed President Roosevelt today an assertion that Canada was impeding the flow of war materials to Eastern points by banning American trucks from its highways.

He said the prohibition was ordered by C. D. Howe, Canadian Minister of Munitions and Supply, and asked the President to aid in lifting the restriction.

"Trucks carrying essential war materials between Michigan cities engaged in production at this end and Niagara frontier and New England factories at the other end should be routed through Ontario to save precious time, tires and gasoline," Campbell's telegram said. ". . . Detroit industries protest such refusal of co-operation of our Canadian ally."

"ONE-MAN BOTTLENECK"

Campbell charged Howe with being a "one-man bottleneck" and in a statement added:

"It's about time someone informed Mr. Howe . . . the war is being fought on behalf of the people of the United Nations and not for the exclusive benefit of the railroads of the United States and Canada."

Trans-Canada trucking shipments, Campbell claimed, would save from half a day to a day and a half between Detroit and the Eastern United States.

U.S. Army Officer Killed in Crash

LONDON, March 17 (Friday) (AP). —The London News Chronicle reported today in a dispatch from Bombay that Colonel John A. Gillis, of the United States Army, had been killed in a plane crash north of Basra, Iraq.

Other passengers in the plane, an aircraft of the Russian Army, also were said to have been casualties.

ALL TRAFFIC STOPPED IN HALIFAX BLACKOUT

HALIFAX, March 12 (CP).—Halifax had its longest test blackout of the war tonight. Most of the city was in darkness for forty-five minutes.

Street car service and other traffic was stopped for the full blackout period.

Hon. R. J. Manion, Canadian director of Civilian Defence, was in the city for the test. He had no comment afterward.

KAMLOOPS, March 12 (CP).—An all-time record of 75 cents a pound was paid by Safeway Stores Limited for the Harper Ranch of Kamloops grand champion steer at this morning's sale of fat stock. The animal weighed 805 pounds to bring $603.75.

The champion entry in the boys' and girls' competition, shown by George Turner, of Westwold, brought $504 when Safeways paid a record price for a junior farmer entry of 70 cents a pound. Andre Dewieus, of Kamloops, sold his reserve champion to the same buyer for 65 cents a pound.

Bulman Bros.' champion group of five was sold to the Pacific Meat Company at 13.10 cents a pound, and the reserve champion lot entered by Douglas Lake Cattle Company went to Canada Packers for 13.70 cents. The Guichon Ranch sold its third prize group of five to Burns & Company for 11.30 cents.

Carlots of fifteen averaged 11.49 cents, an increase over last year's 10.73 cents.

FOUR SHIPS SUNK BY SUBMARINES

off the Bahamas. British authorities at Nassau announced that thirty-eight survivors reached that port Saturday, to be met at the docks by the Duke of Windsor, Governor of the colony.

One member of the crew was killed in the torpedo explosion and another died before the party of survivors was brought to Nassau.

Cuban authorities permitted disclosure that the Oregon had been shelled and sunk some fifty miles off Puerto Plata, Dominican Republic. Ten survivors were landed at Baracoa, Cuba, by the Guardian, of the West Indies Fruit Company's fleet. Sixteen others were reported landed at Puerto Plata.

ELEVEN MEN MISSING

The Oregon, registered out of Wilmington, Del., was a tanker owned by the Texas Company, according to competent New York sources. Maritime records list her as a ship of 7,017 tons, carrying a normal crew of thirty-seven. Thus, with twenty-six of her crew reported safe, possibly eleven were not accounted for.

Here in Washington the Navy Department announced the torpedoing in the Caribbean area of the British tanker and Swedish freighter. Subsequently, district naval headquarters at San Juan, Puerto Rico, authorized publication of further details, including the arrival there last Monday of eighty-three survivors—the entire personnel of both ships.

SUBMARINE MOTHER SHIP

Capt. A. Henney, master of the tanker, was quoted as saying he had seen what was perhaps a submarine mother ship.

The vessel was hit by three torpedoes on Thursday night of last week. The tanker's company got away in lifeboats and the following morning Henney sighted a ship less than five miles away. Using a small radio in his lifeboat, he called for help.

The ship first approached, then veered away. The tanker's master said he was convinced she had a rendezvous with the submarine which hit his ship.

U-BOAT RAMS LIFEBOATS

PHILADELPHIA, March 12 (AP)—Four survivors of a crew of thirty-eight aboard a United States medium-sized tanker declared tonight a submarine sank their ship with shellfire, then ran down and sank two lifeboats and a liferaft.

The attack came without warning in the Caribbean Sea at 4:15 a.m. on February 28, a spokesman for the Fourth Naval District declared. The survivors estimated the undersea craft fired 200 shells. They asserted the ship was not torpedoed.

The vessel, the name of which the navy did not disclose under a new policy, went down within five hours. The survivors drifted on the liferafts for nearly a week. They were picked up by another ship at 4:45 p.m. on March 5 and landed in Philadelphia on Tuesday night.

The sinking of the ship, the navy indicated, had previously been disclosed in dispatches from a Caribbean point, so that the announcement did not add to the submarine toll.

GERMAN INVENTOR DEAD

dispatches said heavy offensive blows had endangered the German positions in a vast area north of the key city of Smolensk, costing the Nazis tremendously in lives, munitions and food.

London sources expressed belief that the Russians finally had breached the defence works of Rzhev, one of the keystones of the whole elaborate system by which Hitler had hoped to hold a deep salient aimed towards Moscow.

FRANTIC ATTEMPTS

Fresh dispatches from the central front today said the Germans now were trying frantically to defend themselves in fields and forests as well as in fortified settlements.

An early cleanup of the whole Staraya Russa area before the Germans can mass sufficient relief forces was declared by qualified sources in London to be an essential part of the Soviet programme.

This would free two or three Russian army corps and would permit a quick thrust westward towards Lake Peipus.

Such an operation would expose the flank and rear of all the German armies beseiging Leningrad and holding the Volkhov-Lake Ladoga front.

Nelson, head of the United States War Production Board.

The Ministry of Labor will be responsible generally for the supply of labor, the Prime Minister explained, but the Ministry of Production will determine what calls for it demand precedence.

FARMERS ELECT COUNCIL BOARD

Co-operative Butcher Shops Favored—Suggest Organizing Women's Corps

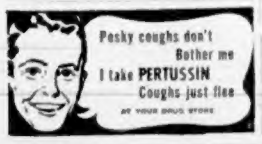
NANAIMO, March 12.—Vancouver Island Farmers' Council with forty delegates present from districts between Victoria, Courtenay and Comox re-elected C. C. Wager, of Ladysmith, president; H. P. Allberry, Courtenay, vice-president; Raymond W. Pincott, Nanaimo, secretary-treasurer. Directors, C. H. Williams, Victoria; W. A. Wilkinsin, Cedar; H. Adsaid, Ladysmith; J. Munt, Parksville, and R. N. Mangles, Courtenay.

A resolution passed authorized immediate investigation of the feasibility of establishing co-operative butcher shops in four main centres of Vancouver Island. Farmers complained that prices paid by butchers were less than the cost of production and several cents below the price paid for meat they imported. Unless remedial steps are taken at once, shortage of farm labor will cause serious shortages of all farm products, the meeting averred, and decided to make representations to the Dominion Government demanding that it provide farm help and pay them a bonus to bring wages up to wages received in other industries.

They will also suggest a women's land corps be organized and that a high school students' corps be formed to work on farms after the [illegible] ing campaign to impress on students the importance of serving their country in such a capacity if necessities of life are to be available for them.

A committee composed of H. Adshead, Ladysmith; Sydney Pickles of South Saanich, and R. N. Mangles of Courtenay, will secure data on ways and means of improving marketing conditions of livestock and poultry. They will ask the Government to place farm representation on the Wartime Price and Trade Board and will protest to the Prime Minister and elected representatives in the House of Commons against the laxity of the Government in not taking the people of Canada into its confidence in conducting its domestic affairs and against the slowness of removal of enemy aliens from the Coast.

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP).—Ezio Pinza, Italian-born Metropolitan Opera basso, was detained today by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and taken to Ellis Island. The F.B.I. declined comment regarding the singer's detention.



LARGE CROWDS OF BRAZILIANS RIOT

tico and the Banco Germanico America Do Sul in the centre of Rio's financial district. They were equipped with sub-machine guns, tear gas guns and other Rio equipment. About fifty other Axis-owned or controlled business establishments, which were attacked or damaged in the afternoon, also were guarded.

However, authorities were most gentle with the demonstrators and made little effort to aid several Germans and Japanese who were manhandled during the day.

TOUCHES OFF DISORDER

Demonstrations started shortly after noon before the "Casa Lohner," owned by Germans. Passersby snatched up paving blocks and hurled them through a show window.

Suddenly a customer, apparently a German, appeared in a doorway and shouted: "Vivi Allemanha!" (Long live Germany!)

This set off a spreading melee. Police extricated the customer from the angry pedestrians.

While many Germans huddled inside, the "Casa Lohner" put up its shutters and other German houses followed suit. Employees of two German firms were forced to hoist huge Brazilian flags. The crowd sang the national anthem and moved on.

THREAT OF SACKING

A pro-German newspaper, The Gazeta Noticias, also was made to raise the Brazilian flag under threat of sacking its building.

In the morning President Getulio Vargas, declaring Germany, Japan and Italy were "united in aggression," ordered various percentages of Axis assets confiscated in reprisal for the ship sinkings.

Axis subjects with funds or credits of more than $100 were directed to surrender 10 per cent of amounts up to $1,000; 20 per cent up to $5,000, and 30 per cent of all greater sums.

These funds will be held as a guarantee of indemnity for Brazil's losses.

ARMY RULES ARE ALTERED

National Defence headquarters for final decision.

ACTIVE ARMY PERSONNEL

In addition to such applications the War Services Boards will be authorized to hear applications for leave on similar grounds from personnel of the Active Army as are referred to them by the adjutant-general, Major-General H. F. G. Letson.

When a soldier appears before a board for the hearing of his case he will do so at his own expense.

Another amendment provided for in the order set forth that when a man has been enrolled under the National Resources Mobilization Act, he must advise the district officer commanding of his new military district of any change in address. In advising the officer, he must give both his old and new address, his regimental number and times and places of service.

Failure to observe this regulation will mean imprisonment for not more than one month or a fine of not more than $100 or both.

A man who has been called out and fails to report for training will be deemed to be an absentee without leave from the training centre, formation or unit to which he was ordered to report.

Oliphant spoke on "Mars," "Jupiter" and "Saturn," respectively, before members of the Royal Astronomical Society at Victoria College on Wednesday night. The lectures were illustrated with lantern slides. Mrs. J. R. Noble will speak on "The Variable Stars" at the next and concluding lecture of the series for this term, which will be held at Victoria College at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, April 1.

Service Stations Are Closed for Breaking Rules

OTTAWA, March 12 (CP).—The Munitions and Supply Department said tonight in a statement that pumps and tanks of two gasoline service stations have been padlocked for contravening Government regulations.

A service station in Lambeth, Ont., was ordered to stop selling all petroleum products for contravening an order prohibiting purchase of gasoline from a distributor other than the one supplying the station last November 15, while a station at Spring Creek, Alta., was ordered to stop selling for "reopening without authorization of the oil controller (G. R. Cottrelle) a dealer station which had been closed for a period of more than thirty days."

NEW ROUTES SOON TO TAKE PLACE OF OLD

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP).—Dr. T. V. Soong, Chinese Foreign Minister, said after a call on President Roosevelt today that an ambitious plan for new routes to China to surpass the traffic volume of the Burma Road should be realized "in a few months."

He said that soon the new supply lanes should be bringing China as much assistance as the Burma line that has been severed by the Japanese.

No Extra Leave Given at Easter

OTTAWA, March 12 (CP).—Easter, as far as the service of Canada's soldiers is concerned, is just another day on the calendar. National Defence Headquarters made this clear today in a circular issued to all commanders saying no special leave or furlough will be granted. The order will not interfere with the granting of leave or furlough to soldiers entitled to it under the regulations.

UNIFORM PRICE ON MOTOR CARS

After March 16 New Cars Cost Same No Matter Where Bought

OTTAWA, March 12 (CP).—A new price policy under which a uniform pricing system for automobiles has been established across Canada, was announced tonight by the Munitions and Supply Department.

One source said the order would mean lower prices for automobiles at points in the East and West most distant from automobile plants.

While addition of freight charges to the uniform price will result in variation of prices across the country the differences will not be as great as at present, it was predicted.

After March 16 every purchaser of a new motor vehicle will pay the same price, apart from freight charges, for any given model of any given make, regardless of where in Canada the sale is made.

TRANSPORT COST

"To the established retail price at the manufacturer's plant, or at his headquarters in Canada, the dealer will add a charge to cover an agreed transportation cost from the factory to the dealer's location, plus a charge of $25 per passenger car or motorcycle, or $35 per truck or bus, to cover the unloading and the servicing that is necessary before delivery," the department's statement said.

Production of passenger automobiles for civilian use has been ordered halted effective March 31, automatically limiting the number of cars to which the uniform price can be applied.

Motorcycles and trucks, to which the order also applies, will still be manufactured, but production is being reduced and capacity of plants engaged in manufacturing these vehicles will be devoted largely to meeting war needs.

JAPANESE-OPERATED RADIO CONFISCATED

MEXICO CITY, March 12 (AP).—The Mexican general staff announced today that several arrests had been made and a clandestine radio operated by a Japanese had been seized in the United States border State of Coahuila.

The Japanese operating it were imprisoned for action by Federal authorities.

CHEMISTRY HELPS TO WIN THE WAR

Bird's Eye View of Berlin
As the R.C.A.F. bomber pilot swings his plane around over Berlin, he sees clearly the details of his target below him through a windshield of plastic material—"Lucite". For this moment of "chickens coming home to roost", a crew of bright faced Canadian lads became avengers of the skies, an infant Canadian aircraft industry grew up overnight, and a product of Industrial Chemistry went to war.
"Lucite" is one of a group of many new materials generally referred to as Plastics. It is transparent as crystal, but is only half the weight of glass. But—vital in aircraft use—it will not shatter like glass.
"Butacite" for safety-glass manufacture, and "Plaskon" Resin Glue for the fabrication of plywood for aeroplane manufacture, are two other important Plastics vital to our war effort.
For some years before the war C-I-L was introducing Plastics of various types to industry. They went into such products as safety-glass, toothbrush handles, combs, radio and automobile trims and accessories. Now Plastics are rendering yeoman service in the cause of the United Nations.

THAT PLEBISCITE

The estimated detailed cost of the plebiscite to be held on April 27 to obtain an expression of public opinion on Canada's war effort is $1,500,275. This figure was given in the House of Commons by Mr. N. A. McLarty, Secretary of State. It appears that what are known as supplies, ballot papers, etc., will cost $80,000. Returning officers at 32,000 polls, paid at the rate of $4 each, will run to a total of $128,000 and the clerical assistance they are to receive means an expenditure of $40,000. Urban enumerators, to be paid at the rate of 7 cents per name, and allowing for 3,500,000 names, will receive $245,000 and rural enumerators are expected to receive the same amount. Deputy returning officers, 32,000 to be appointed at $6 each, will mean an outlay of 192,000. There are to be poll clerks as well, each receiving $3, and, with a total of 32,000 of them, the aggregate cost will be $96,000. For polling stations $104,000 is to be paid. There are to be 14,000 of these; for 12,000, $8 each will be paid and for 2,000 $4. These, however, are the urban polling stations. There will be an additional outlay of $86,000 for rural polling stations and $8,200 for advance polling stations. Plebiscite officers, who it appears are to do some traveling, are allowed $50,000 for this purpose and a sum of $50,000 is set aside for taking the votes of those in the armed services. There are other sums that go to make up the total of over $1,500,000, including $85,000 for "sundries."

Obviously no provision whatever is made for voluntary effort in the work of taking the plebiscite. No steps have been advocated by the Government towards this end. The cost as given does not include what will be expended in the preparation of new voters' lists and that is an expensive procedure when it is done all over the country. If, as the Government estimates, there will be 7,000,000 names on the lists the cost of printing these alone will be $700,000, and this is apart altogether from the clerical staffs to be employed throughout the country for the registering of these names and for indexing them and doing other routine work in connection with the procedure of assembling a country-wide voters' list. These staffs alone will cost the country some hundreds of thousands of dollars. It is perhaps a conservative estimate to place the expenditure on the voters' lists and the plebiscite combined at at least $2,500,000. That is the price that the people of Canada will have to pay to absolve the Government from its pre-election pledges against a total war effort or to confirm opposition to that purpose. There are many who will believe, with every conceivable justification, that this money, at this time, would be far better spent in pursuit of the purposes of achieving victory.

WARTIME FRIVOLITIES

As the tightening squeeze of total war is felt in Great Britain the decision has been reached to put further curtailments on wartime frivolities. There has not been sport as usual for a long time in the Motherland; now there is to be less still. Greyhound racing is to be restricted to one day a week; horse-racing is to be confined to fewer tracks; boxing exhibitions will be few and far between. This is all to be done, in the main, for the conservation of gasoline but as well to permit of a larger output of munitions. Other restrictions are being put into force, of a kind indeed which will put a full stop to motoring for pleasure as should be the case when so many oil tankers are going to their doom in both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

There should be a stout lesson for Canada in what Great Britain is doing to meet the exigencies of war. In this country, to all intents and purposes, it has been "sport as usual" during the past two and a half years of war, and there is little or no diminution in the crowds who attend wartime frivolities. That has meant that gasoline has been expended extravagantly in ways that could have been curbed by governmental decree. Even when the Oil Controller asked for conservation of 50 per cent of the amount used by private motorists the response was almost negligible. That has led to the rationing system which goes into effect on April 1, a system which provides for so many privileged classes that it is doubtful if in the aggregate any substantial saving will be effected. Under the rationing system here the owner of a motor car—the average owner—with a vehicle that travels 20 miles to the gallon will be permitted to do a mileage of 500 per month. In Great Britain the mileage that has been allowed for a long time past has been 200 per month. On July 1 this is to be reduced. Motoring for pleasure is to become a thing of the past for the war's duration. When is Canada going to clamp down on wartime frivolities and introduce anything in the nature of compulsory sacrifice, apart from the taxation imposed?

BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE

Mr. W. D. Herridge has a distinction, not shared by many in this country, of having been among those who in the matter of urging preparation for the present war was well ahead of public opinion. He advocated, again and again, the replenishment of the country's fighting power when the clouds were gathering thickly over Europe and before Germany plunged that continent and the world into war. His appeal fell on deaf ears; there was indeed a concerted and a very powerful attempt, which temporarily at least proved successful, to put up barriers against any possibility of his becoming prominent in the political life of the country. From time to time, however, Mr. Herridge is heard from and the latest occasion was the expression of his views on Mr. Mackenzie King's plebiscite in an interview given recently to the London correspondent of The Ottawa Citizen. In this he makes a renewed plea for a National Government in Canada "before it is too late." He said:

"This shameful plebiscite is final proof that party government can never give the kind of leadership which we must have in time of war. Only National Government can give that leadership. When the war began the leader of the party Government of Canada was Mr. Mackenzie King who must have known that conscription was imperative. Yet he ran away from conscription, and he is still running, because Mr. Mackenzie King does not like conscription. Moreover, he feels conscription is a dangerous issue. For instance, he thinks Quebec is against conscription. I do not believe that Quebec is half as much against conscription as Mr. King himself is. For nearly [illegible] the duty of the Government of Canada to drive through conscription. The national peril was its mandate to do so. When Mr. King rejected that mandate he proved himself unfit for his high office. When the Prime Minister turned against conscription he let his country down. He, by that act, made it impossible for Canada to take its rightful place upon the battlefront. The honor and security of the Canadian people demand the resignation of Mr. Mackenzie King. Let him resign. Then we can make a fresh start, free from disabling pledges and paralyzing fears. Then patriots can come together and form a truly National Government before it is too late. I warn Canadians it is later than they think.

A VEGETABLE SHORTAGE

The City is prepared to rent reverted lots to citizens for the purpose of raising vegetables. For these the nominal rent is $2.50 a year for each lot and the municipality will do the ploughing and disking for another $2.50. The offer has been open to citizens for some time but only five persons have shown that they have the ambition, the energy and the foresight to take advantage of it. There is no doubt that the supply of vegetables to come in from the outside will be very seriously curtailed before long and it is a patent, if inexplicable, fact that Victorians do not grow enough for their own use and cannot secure enough from the agricultural area contiguous to the City. It is knowledge of this that has led the municipality to make the offer of reverted lots so that the local supply of vegetables will be increased. This was done, too, during the Great War, with very satisfactory results.

The position affecting vegetable imports is becoming very much more acute now than it was at any time between 1914 and 1918. There was no gasoline shortage then, no rubber famine; the United States, from where vegetables are imported, was not engaged in war in the Pacific Ocean. Unless there is a substantial increase in the production of vegetables locally it is certain that there will be a serious shortage before the end of the year. It is lack of foresight, or laziness, that prevents those who can availing themselves of the offer of the municipality whereby they can make reverted lots productive and insure the well being of the community by the supply of a most essential foodstuff.

SENATOR RAOUL DANDURAND

Mr. Raoul Dandurand, Liberal leader in the Senate, typified much that is best in French-Canadianism and had given his country an extended period of political service. Careers in the Upper Chamber are not usually prolonged, for as a rule it is the accumulation of political wisdom through many experiences that qualifies appointees, and that means they are advanced in life when they reach that goal. Mr. Dandurand had been in the Senate for forty-four years and his time there was one of continuously meritorious service. During that period he had been Speaker for four years and a Minister in succeeding Governments of Mr. Mackenzie King. The honor of being made a member of the Imperial Privy Council fell to his lot last July.

A man of charming personality and gracious manners, Mr. Dandurand held the respect of all. He was a staunch advocate of the purposes for which the League of Nations was formed after the Great War and he represented this country at several of its gatherings. Politician, businessman, author and lawyer, he had many-sided abilities. Despite his age he had continued his leadership in the Senate up to the end. In that House, as well as throughout the country where he had so many friends and admirers, his sudden passing will be learned of with very deep regret.

TO SOME BRAVE NURSES OF A LONDON HOSPITAL

So late I saw you full of life,
Youth's shining promise in your eyes,
Calm-browed, resolved to meet the strife—
Such martyr-courage never dies.

By Pity's holy zeal inspired
You neither shunned nor feared the way.
You died, as you would have desired,
Just where stern Duty's dark path lay.

What grief! but O what service done,
What sacrifice for others' weal,
What glorious setting of Life's sun
Such deeds of human worth reveal.

Rest valorous hearts in peace divine;
For Heaven's sanctuary now is yours,
Where souls of the Immortals shine,
Where Love—undyingly—endures!

—Herbert Barker in The Observer, London.

Unable to secure to ourselves the advantages of peace, we are at the same time utterly unfit for war. It is impossible, if this state of things be credited abroad, that we can have any alliances; all nations will fly from so dangerous a connection, lest, instead of being partakers of our strength, they should only become sharers of our ruin.—Edmund Burke, 1769.

. . . All the cities of the earth should rise up against the man who ruins one. Until this sentiment is predominant, the peaceful can have no protection, the virtuous no encouragement, the brave no countenance, the prosperous no security.—Walter Savage Landor.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

History, I do not doubt, will refer to the Twentieth Century as the time of the Great Crusade; as the upward march of mankind, away from feudal concepts and into the new ground of justice, reason and peace. For the world heaves, and moves, and from our enemies we have already learned what we do not want. That is a long step on the [illegible] do want, the next goal of humanity. It is world order, world security, and peace in which to live and grow. Because we are so close to it we do not altogether see that it is a Great Crusade; nor realize that its benefit will live and fructify to the benefit of mankind for long centuries to come. For, this time, it is a crusade of the human spirit, the like of which history cannot show within measured time.

We should, I think, be very grateful to our enemies. For, striving against them, we are developing ourselves. It was the goose-stepping Hun, the treacherous jackal of the central sea, and their cohorts who first made us see that the world has become a unit; suffering at its centre for the most remote pain at its circumference. We had to be shown oppression, cruelty and devilry at their worst, before as a world we would make plans to discard them. We had to learn to call some dark skins our friends and some white skins our foes before we would learn that it is the color of the heart alone that matters. Above all, we had to see the absurdity of man's dominion over man to know that that was not the way. Our enemies have shown us all that, and more. And this time, I think, we will learn the lesson.

History, so blind in some places and so seeing in others, could take us back over the path of all previously recorded crusades. We would find in each a restless pattern of humanity, striving for a goal it did not clearly recognize. We would find crusades that were for faith, but not for all men's faith. We would find crusades for land, but not all men's land. We would find crusades that were mere diversions from the pressing ills of governance. But, with one of two limited exceptions, we would not find anything comparable to this in a crusade of the human spirit. Mankind is on the march, and the line of man's march is clearly upward. We are moving, through what wrack and what storm no one can rightly tell, on to calmer, higher ground; on to a world plane, if you like. What is being made over is the human spirit; a world-man, and a free man to inhabit a world garden.

Our enemies may say, and they will, that this race of men or that race of men may not live here or go there. Our enemies may talk, and they do, of a master-race to whom all others one day will bow. Our enemies may scheme, and they have, to force a sword down the throat of humanity, declaring might to be the only right. But our enemies are only the wind that has raised the whirlwind; the agency that set mankind upon the march; the night that has called forth the day for humanity. It is against these enemies that our Great Crusade has been launched. And, this time, it is going through to its goal. For, tread on a snake, and you will get a bite; step on a tiger, and you may be severely mauled; but imprison a man, and not all the legions on earth, nor all of the years in a lifetime, will keep him bound. Freedom, aroused, can take every field—and it will.

Curiously enough, our enemies know that—now. They learned it in Korea, in Manchuria, and China. They met it again in Abyssinia, and in the African desert. They recognized it in Poland, in Norway, in Holland, in Belgium, in France, in the Balkans, in Greece, and in Crete. They said each was a "victory"; and on paper it was. But they knew that each "victory" merely added height from which the final plunge to defeat must take place. For nobody imprisons men, and man himself is on the march in the Great Crusade. Have no doubt about that. There was never a sword so sharp but that it could be blunted by an ideal. There was never a mind so broad this side of Valhalla, that could think for all men. There was never a force so great—and there never will be—that could chain mankind, or stop the human march to the hills of the gods. It is our crusade. It is the Great Crusade. Let us get into it, and on with it. Let us be glad that we lived to see it, the first dawn on the horizon of man's better day!

CONSCRIPT DUTCH

LONDON (CP). — Some 150,000 workers have been conscripted for factories in Germany and forty Netherlands firms have been transferred to Germany.

FOURTEEN OFFICERS WILL BE DECORATED

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP).—Secretary of the Navy Knox approved today award of the Navy Cross to fourteen officers who distinguished themselves in action during the first Japanese aerial bombardment of the Cavite Naval Base in the Philippines.

Letters of commendation from the secretary to three civilians who were employed there and also distinguished themselves were announced at the same time.

The Observation Car

By G.B.

Today, although it is Friday the thirteenth, two firemen known as Scotty and Tidler will celebrate their birthdays in quiet fashion. Scotty is an ardent hunter and a crack shot with a rifle. He is one of the few huntsmen who never talk about the big ones that got away. Tidler spurns motor power for angling. As a result his catches are always the largest made off Oak Bay. . . . According to The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, gasoline is to be rationed in Washington and Oregon States in the near future. There will also be 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfews for service stations and coupon books similar to those to be used in British Columbia. . . . "I'm so worried. I can hear the air raid sirens. Is there going to be a raid?" a distraught woman telephoned to the chief air raid warden at 2 o'clock in the morning. "Madam, there is no raid in progress, or I should have heard about it before now. Furthermore I have just thrust my head out of the sitting-room window and cannot hear the double tone which signifies imminent danger. Calm your fears and hop back into bed. Thank you for telephoning. I shall investigate." the chief warden replied. A few minutes later he discovered the siren noise was merely the warning signal on the Johnson Street Bridge preparatory to raising the span for a tug to pass through. . . . Dogs are able to hear air raid sirens long before the sound builds up to a pitch within the range of human ears. Yesterday morning, several seconds before the sound devices broke out into an all-clear signal, two dogs in the 400 block on Vancouver Street showed signs of great agitation and fear of something they obviously did not understand. One ran around his master's house in circles, grabbed his bone from behind the stove and hid it under the hall mat, and then tried to push open the back door.

ACTION OF DOMINION COMMAND IS SCORED

At a meeting of the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, held on Tuesday night, consideration was given the action of the Dominion Command in causing the withdrawal of the Victoria and Zone Council from the sponsorship of the mass meeting held in Beacon Hill Park on March 1.

This action led to considerable criticism of that body and the meeting passed the following resolution: "That the Pro Patria Branch strongly condemns the action of the Dominion Command in having the Victoria and District Zone Council withdraw its sponsorship of a mass meeting held in Beacon Hill Park on March 1, held for the purpose of urging on the Dominion Government the immediate removal or internment of all Japanese to zones remote from all protected areas."

This time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where two highs occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of March 13, 1892)

Needs Attention.—Now that the police, to the delight of all good citizens, are directing their attention to the crowds at the corner of Yates and Government Streets, it may not be out of order to request an occasional visit to the corner where Yates Street joins Wharf. The crowd which assembles nightly in front of the North Pacific Saloon is not so much of a nuisance as that at Campbell's corner, but it needs moving a little, just the same.

The Rod.—Two of the early fishermen who went up the line to take advantage of the first day of the trout season, came home last evening; the one with an empty bag, the other with one little half-pound beauty.

The Gun.—A meeting of the Union Gun Club is called for this evening at 8 o'clock, at the rooms, Bastion Square. The principle topic of discussion will be the choice of targets and traps for the season; the Peoria black-birds which have been used in the past have not given perfect satisfaction, though they fly fairly well. The great trouble with them has been in the loss by breakage in transit from the East. The Peerless or some of the other new birds, it is expected, will be the choice of the club.

Marshalled for Heavier Attacks

ports had been kicked out off New Guinea and nearby New Britain. This, apparently, was arrived at by consolidating the enemy's more recent losses off New Guinea with those inflicted earlier in his landings on New Britain.

The known and officially confirmed score off New Guinea itself—this in the area of the northeastern port of Salamaua—remained at seven enemy ships sunk, beached or burned, although it was believed that two additional vessels were damaged.

An Air Ministry communique reported that Allied aircraft attacked both Salamaua and Lae yesterday, destroying buildings on the Salamaua airdrome and shooting down a Japanese interceptor plane.

RAID INEFFECTIVE

Port Moresby again was raided by the enemy yesterday, it was added, but anti-aircraft guns kept the attackers at a high level and there were no casualties.

Australians declared that the nearer the enemy approaches to the Mainland, the more he narrows the range of planes based in Northern Australia and thus the greater would be the punishment inflicted upon him.

Japanese Imperial Headquarters itself admitted that three Japanese warships were damaged and six other ships sunk, beached or damaged in Tuesday's landing operations at Salamaua and nearby Lae, and the Japanese political leadership again tried its fright technique in propaganda directed at this country.

Damage to German Battleship Heavy targets has been that which is of best help to Russia and to the Royal Navy in the battle of the Atlantic.

The source emphasized the Royal Air Force's numerical parity with Germany in the light of the extent of the war round the world. The R.A.F. of necessity is dispersed by demands in the Far and Middle East.

Dealing with attacks on France the source said the R.A.F.'s policy is to destroy factories manufacturing war material for Germany whether in France or in the Ruhr, but if similar conditions prevailed over similar targets in France and Germany, the Bomber Command would choose the German target every time.

"We don't like bombing Frenchmen," the source said.

JAPANESE FORCE LARGE

In the Far East, it was stated, the R.A.F. planes and men are more than a match for the Japanese pilots and machines, but the source warned that the Japanese air force is "formidably large" and its pilots are brave and skillful.

On the basis of information available here, the source said, it does not appear that Japan has the productive capacity to maintain her front line air force at its present strength.

Referring to the Commonwealth Air Training Plan the source said it is keeping pace with production. Training periods and courses are constantly under review.

CHARGE INDIAN WITH NEGLECTING TO TRAIN

In Provincial Police Court Wednesday, Magistrate H. C. Hall remanded for a week the case of an Indian of the West Saanich Indian Reserve, charged with failing to report for military training. When a statement purporting to be from the divisional registrar under the Natural Resources Mobilization Act was introduced by Provincial Constable Quinn, the Indian told the court he was unable to read.

His father said some misunderstanding had arisen over the charge, and the case was then remanded to secure the services of an interpreter.

A motorist who pleaded guilty to driving in a manner dangerous to the public was fined $30 and $2.50 costs, or five days in default, and his licence ordered suspended for two months after he told the court that he used his car to eke out his income as a disability case. He drove his car off the Island Highway and into a garden at View Royal at 4.10 a.m., February 26, the Crown advised Magistrate Hall.

DRAFTSMAN FOUND DEAD IN VEHICLE

John Bell Irving, thirty-five, a draftsman employed at H.M.C.S. Dockyard, was found dead in his automobile parked along Devonshire Road, Esquimalt, at 7.15 o'clock yesterday morning. Chief H. W. V. Pecknold, Esquimalt police, stated death appeared to be from natural causes.

A.R.P. Address Is Given to Mothers

An interesting address was given on Wednesday afternoon by Corporal D. W. Taylor, of the Provincial Police Protection Branch, to members and friends of the Monterey Parent-Teacher Association in the Oak Bay Municipal Hall.

He earnestly requested each mother to realize that it is her duty to instill confidence in the child, and that she herself knows exactly what is to be done in case of an air raid; she should see to it that each child in the home or on the street knows, and know well, the proper procedure at the time. He suggested that it would be wise for the P.-T.A. to cooperate with the schools in safeguarding the children. The parents should have full information and thus gain confidence that their children are as safe as possible in the school in case an air raid should come during school hours. He warned mothers not to become distracted and try to reach the school, as they would thus disrupt A.R.P. organization and endanger themselves.

The lecture was followed by motion pictures of A.R.P. organization in London.

VANCOUVER, March 12 (CP). — Shareholders of Reno Gold Mines, Ltd., today approved, by a vote of 154,630 to 715, a capital distribution of 20 cents a share, amounting to $376,000, to be effected by reduction in capital.

If "bad breaks" were not common there would not be much difference between expert and average players. With suits breaking 2-2 or 3-3, and all finesses working smoothly, bridge would be a comparatively simple (and boring) card game. The bad breaks, by providing opportunity for real prowess, supply a decided filip. Note todays' hand.

West opened the club king. Declarer's first lead to the trump ace disclosed the alarming news that two trump losers would be unavoidable, and, since there were also possible losers in hearts and diamonds, it was obvious that heroic measures would be required to bring home the contract.

Declarer cashed the diamond ace and led a low diamond toward dummy. When West's queen appeared, declarer realized he had won only half the battle. It was encouraging to have trapped the queen, but on the other hand, it was apparent that the suit would not break and that a discard could not be acquired by normal means.

There was just one chance left, and declarer was quick to capitalize it. Cashing the king and ace of afford no return except a trump. Declarer won and forced out West's last trump. West then could exit safely in clubs, but the respite for the defenders was only temporary. At this point East, who had started out with only two ten spots, found irresistible pressure applied to him. After ruffing the club return, declarer laid down his last trump. At this point, declarer's holding was one trump, the heart eight, and the four of diamonds. West, having been stripped of diamonds and hearts, was out of the running. Dummy still had a low heart and the jack-nine of diamonds. Dummy's discard on declarer's trump was, of course, the heart, and poor East found it impossible to select a safe discard. To throw off the heart ten was merely to promote declarer's eight spot, whereas to discard a diamond was to establish both the jack and nine in dummy. hearts, he then led another trump and passed it. West won and could

Greatest Traditions of Past Generation Are Upheld by Canadians

Modern Airmen Are Fine Fighters, Says Group Captain S. L. G. Pope, New Commandant of Royal Air Force Station at Sidney

CANADA'S airmen are tops in the fighting business—take it from an Irishman who has trained and fought with them in two wars. He is Group Captain S. L. G. Pope, D.F.C., A.F.C., officer commanding the Royal Air Force station at Patricia Bay.

In his first interview since his arrival here, Group Captain Pope, who recently commanded operational squadrons operating over the North Sea, yesterday said that the new generation of Canadian airmen are maintaining the great traditions established by their countrymen in the first Great War.

The tall commandant met newspapermen in his office at the R.A.F. station, and as he rose with a pleasant greeting for the visiting party, his towering figure, rising to its full six feet seven inches, almost brushed the ceiling of the severely furnished room.

"How are your Canadians doing?" he smiled as he recalled associations as far back as the first Great War and told of their exploits in modern fighting aircraft. "I found them fine chaps and excellent fighters, just as they were twenty-five years ago."

As an eighteen-year-old flying instructor at Tern Hill, the Dublin-born lad first came to know Canadian airmen. At that time, although he had already received his pilot's certificate, he was too young to proceed overseas. He later went to France, posted to No. 60 Squadron, at that time equipped with Nieuport S.S. Fighters.

After almost a year with this unit he was posted to the home establishment in command of the advance Fighter Flight which was equipped with S.E. 5's and Dolphins.

"How did you manage to squeeze into an S.E. 5?" the group captain was asked.

"I was just able to make it?" he laughed.

In his twenty-six years with the air force, in which he was commissioned in 1916, Group Captain Pope has served in many countries. After the Armistice he went to Cologne with the Army of Occupation. Several years later he was in Iraq at Mosul, and then at headquarters in the Middle East at Cairo. He remained there until invalided home in 1927 with para-typhoid.

After his recovery the intervening years up to the beginning of the present war were filled with activity. He recalled outstanding experiences—his cruise to the West Indies, the Mediterranean and Greek Islands in 1933 with the Fleet Fighter Squadron of H.M.S. Furious, giving acrobatic exhibitions as guests of the Greek Government, and the time in 1938 when he led the Gladiator "tied-together" aerobatic flight to Paris as guests of the French Government.

In March, 1939, Group Captain Pope took over command of No. 226 (Bomber-Fairey Battles) Squadron. Being in the Advanced Air Striking Force he led the squadron fully bombed up to France on September 2, landing at Reims Champagne aerodrome.

Before being posted to his command here, Group Captain Pope commanded two Hudson squadrons and later a torpedo squadron.

Asked about the American-made Hudsons, he said "they did a good job and we had unlimited confidence in them."

While in Ottawa, Group Captain Pope saw the timely and thrilling air force picture "Captains of the Clouds." He confessed it proved a surprise to him.

"It was an excellent picture," he said. "I went expecting to see the usual flying picture—generally overdone and carrying the usual sob stuff. But I was agreeably surprised."

Group Captain Pope succeeds Group Captain P. D. Robertson at the R.A.F. station. Before his recent departure, Group Captain Robertson was in command of the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. training and operational stations.

Y.P.S. News

METROPOLITAN

Mr. Cameron Gorrie, boys' work secretary of the Y.M.C.A., who was the guest speaker at the Metropolitan Y.P.U. recently, based his talk on the book "We Discuss Canada." This book was compiled as a result of a young men's conference in Montreal. The speaker stressed the numerous problems which confront Canada and the value of properly-directed public opinion in solving these in the best interests of the people. Mr. Gorrie's address was enthusiastically received by the members and Arthur Lees extended a vote of thanks. Kenneth Priestley led a singsong, accompanied by Cameron Gorrie. During the business period, conducted by Dick Johnson, further entries were requested for the oratorical contest on March 24. Support was asked for the singsong on Sunday evening, at which the society has charge of the programme and refreshments. Bowling was announced for this evening at 7 o'clock. The meeting closed with a worship service led by Jean Adams, with Frances Kerry at the piano. The meeting on Tuesday, March 17, will take the form of a shamrock social, in charge of Group One under Harold Benson. Novel entertainment, games and refreshments have been planned.

STRAWBERRY VALE UNIT

The social afternoon which the members of the Strawberry Vale Red Cross Unit held on Wednesday was largely attended and proved successful in every way. During the afternoon several tables of bridge and five hundred were in play, and a much appreciated programme was presented. Vocal selections were given by Mrs. G. Watling and Barbara Warnock; recitations by Marie Cummins and Yvonne Lindores, and a pianoforte solo by Helen Porter. Accompanists were Mrs. T. Raper and Helen Porter. Mrs. R. Rickki was at the door and received the silver collection and 177 handkerchiefs which were brought for the shower. Afternoon tea was served by members of the unit and Mrs. Grouiage, the convener, was assisted by Vivian Gibson in presenting the prizes, which were won by Mrs. B. Hodgson, Mrs. M. Keay, Mrs. F. P. Dawson, Mrs. Brewster, Mrs. D. Johnston, Mrs. R. Knight and Mrs. R. Peters. As the plants and cut flowers which were given as prizes were all donated the convener took great pleasure in announcing that during the afternoon the sum of $18.70 was realized.

HOUSE DEBATES WHEAT POLICY

Some Members Oppose Acreage Reduction but Bill Given Second Reading

OTTAWA, March 12 (CP).—Two of the three bills containing the Government's 1942 wheat programme were passed on second reading in the House of Commons tonight and referred to the agriculture committee for detailed study.

They are the wheat acreage reduction bill which provides bonuses for land taken out of wheat production as was done last year and an amendment to the Prairie Farm Assistance Act to bring that crop failure acreage bonus law into line with the new wheat price of 90 cents a bushel.

While these measures are under the scrutiny of the agriculture committee debate will continue in the House on the third wheat measure—the one to raise the minimum guaranteed wheat prices from 70 to 90 cents, basis No. 1 Northern at Fort William.

As the wheat debate proceeded during the day warnings were heard from private members against undue curtailment of wheat acreage or depletion of wheat stocks.

OPPOSES REDUCTION

Mrs. Dorise Nielsen (Unity, North Battleford) declared herself opposed to acreage reduction and said she considered the ninety-cent wheat price inadequate.

Others who questioned the wisdom of curtailing acreage were T. L. Church (Conservative, Toronto-Broadview) and Gilbert Weir (Liberal, Macdonald).

Mr. Church said he feared there might be less labor available for farms later on and that cutting down production now might be a mistake. Mr. Weir said he thought a substantial wheat reserve should be maintained, as it was the only food product which could be accumulated and stored.

During the afternoon sitting Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other party leaders spoke in appreciation of the late Senator Dandurand, Government leader in the Senate, who died here last night.

Mr. Campbell, who addressed the meeting on "Education and Administration," dealt with the subject in a concise and instructive way. Following the lecture, a short discussion in question form, was keenly entered into by the audience. Mrs. D. B. Cantell, president of South Park Parent-Teacher Association, was in the chair.

Professor R. T. McKenzie, Department of Extension, University British Columbia, will be the next speaker at the last meeting in this series, and the subject will be "Leadership, What and Why?" Associates Gave Shower

A St. Patrick's Day motif was carried out in the decorations for the surprise shower which the girls of the staff of the traffic department of the B.C. Telephone Company gave recently in honor of Miss Vera Woodley, a bride-to-be of next week, and held at her home, 561 Toronto Street. The arrangements for the party were made by the Misses Margaret Brinkman, Joey Duncan and Dorothy Scott. The rooms were prettily decorated with Spring flowers and here the guest of honor was presented with a huge Irish bowler hat containing the many and varied gifts. The guests sat down to supper at a T-shaped table, which was centred with two large bowls of daffodils and heather. Green and white streamers from the chandelier were caught to the corners of the table, completing the attractive setting. The guests were Miss E. R. Walker, Miss M. Birley, Miss E. Warburton, Mesdames J. Anderson, R. Davies, C. Yeamans, G. Hall, V. Miles, R. Edwards, D. McEwan and Misses M. Mitchell, M. Johnston, I. Crawford, D. Custance, M. Seymour, J. Duncan, I. Bradley, M. Reunion of China's Leading Family

China's famed Soong sisters, all-powerful members of a powerful dynasty which has had much to do with growth of the Chinese Republic, are pictured in Chungking along with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, husband of the most famous of the trio, Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek, who is at the left. Next to her is Mme. H. H. Kung, wife of China's Minister of Finance; and at the right of the generalissimo is Mme. Sun Yat Sen, whose late husband was the founder of modern China. The picture was taken just before General Chiang Kai-Shek left for his visit to India.

What Today Means

If March 13 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:30 to 8:30 a.m., from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., and from 10:30 p.m. until midnight.

Daydreaming and practical performance, like oil and water, are incompatible. This combination will not help you to achieve good results, so do not try to combine them. Jokes at the expense of other people will react unfavorably on their perpetrators, so it will be good judgment not to indulge in them. Friday and the thirteenth should be a favorable combination and should prove to be an auspicious day for the advancement of the personal affairs of those celebrating it as their birth anniversary. Do not expect people to be mind readers, and do not expect them to take your appreciation for favors received for granted. Reunion of relatives and friends may add greatly to the happiness of many people, so do not be surprised if you find yourself participating in one of them. Married and engaged couples, as well as sweethearts, may, before the day is over, discover that "he is truly wise who gains wisdom from another's mishap."

If you are a woman and March 13 is your birthday, never mask your affectionate disposition under a veneer of indifference. You have more to gain by emotional appeals than by a display of apathy. Home life, with its many domestic problems and responsibilities, should have a strong appeal for you. Among the best activities in which you may most successfully and profitably engage are the teaching of social science, kindergarten work, trained nursing, writing, singing, selling, or acting. Use your good judgment and your selection of a husband should prove to be wise and satisfactory.

The child born on March 13 should have impressed upon him the virtue of unselfishness and the importance of displaying it in all his daily activities. This youngster probably will learn to be as honest with himself as he is with strangers and will have a wholesome respect for the truth.

If you are a man and March 13 is your natal day, you may find yourself living on a more spiritual than material plane if you will devote some of your time to the study of the Bible. Close application to whatever work you undertake should enable you to become more than ordinary successful. As a scientist, educator, theologian, journalist, author, actor, physician, inventor or businessman, you may come to be regarded as a worthy example for ambitious young men to emulate.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy or Cunningham Drug Stores, or any druggist, and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore, tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended, and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money. (Advt.)

NOTE MISSING

A young man went to tea to his sweetheart's home one Sunday afternoon. They had only met recently and this was his first visit. After tea the girl asked him if he would go to chapel with her. He accepted and, pulling out his wallet, he said, casually, as he extracted a pound note: "I suppose there'll be a collection?"

"Yes, Jack," was the reply, "but you are not going to put that pound note in the collection bag, are you?"

"I always give a pound when I go to chapel," was the careless reply.

When the collection bag came round Jack cunningly contrived to put a three-penny-bit in. Then minutes later the parson announced from the pulpit: "My dear friends, the collection tonight amounts to nine shillings and sixpence."

SOCIETY MARKS BLANSHARD DAY

Provincial Archivist Speaks On Governor's Career Before Historical Association

In annual commemoration of Blanshard Day, the Victoria Branch of the British Columbia Historical Association met Wednesday evening in the Provincial Library to hear a short address on "Governor Richard Blanshard" by W. E. Ireland, Provincial Archivist.

Mr. Ireland sketched the background of events and personalities with which Vancouver Island's first governor had to deal, and gave fresh interest to an annually-repeated subject. Blanshard, he said, was appointed to the governorship when only thirty-two years old, arrived in Victoria in March, 1850, and then encountered everything from bad health, poor quarters and exorbitant living costs to continuous friction with James Douglas and the Hudson's Bay Company.

NOTEWORTHY EVENTS

Among the significant events in Blanshard's short term were the reading of his commission March 11, 1850; his establishment of British law on Vancouver Island; the first formal coroner's inquest, convened by the Governor May 13, 1850; the marine inquiry on the Cowlitz, and the appointment of Helmcken as magistrate, Mr. Ireland said.

"Richard Blanshard laid the foundations," the speaker remarked. "His successors built thereon and received the plaudits of posterity." Col. H. T. Goodland moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Ireland, and was seconded by Dr. T. A. Rickard.

B. A. McKelvie led a discussion on the early colonization of Vancouver Island. Mr. Ireland showed historical pictures of Victoria and its prominent figures in the 1840's and 1850's, being assisted by Major H. Nation.

Mrs. M. R. Cree presented to the Provincial Archives a document published in 1815 as an exhortation to the women of England in the Napoleonic Wars. The document belonged originally to Lady Crease. Mrs. Curtis Sampson was in the chair.

FAIR EXCHANGE

MacTavish was enjoying himself at a conjuring show and was particularly interested when the conjurer shut up a woman in a cabinet and then opening it after a few moments produced a parrot in her place. Going to see the conjurer after the show, he said: "If I brought the wife round tomorrow could ye do the same to her? I've promised wee Alec a parrot for a Christmas present."

Navigators Will Miss Lightships On Coast Shoals

Lightships which warned mariners off dangerous shoals at Umatilla Reef and Swiftsure Banks, off the Washington coast and near the entrance to the Strait of Juan de Fuca, respectively, have been withdrawn and replaced by red, lighted whistle buoys, the United States Coast Guard announced last week.

Relief lightship No. 92 was withdrawn from Umatilla Reef and replaced with Umatilla Reef lighted whistle buoy "UR," and Swiftsure Banks lightship was withdrawn and replaced with Swiftsure Banks lighted whistle buoy "SB."

Umatilla Reef buoy has a white light flashing every twenty seconds; flash two seconds, eclipse ten seconds, of 300 candle power. Swiftsure Banks buoy has a white light flashing every fifteen seconds; flash five seconds, eclipse ten seconds, of 300 candle power. The whistles are operated by action of the sea. The buoys are in the charted positions occupied by the lightships.

COMPLETE SUBMISSION OF EVIDENCE IN SUIT AGAINST AIR CONCERN

MONTREAL, March 12 (CP).—Submission of evidence was completed today in the $110,000 suit against Quebec Airways Company, charging negligence in the deaths of Gerald Davidson, Joseph Cote and Pilot Joseph Fecteau after the men were lost on the Labrador coast in 1939 when their plane was forced down.

The suit against the airways company was brought by the widows of Davidson and Cote.

George Trim, a pilot and a friend of Davidson, testified today he had advised Davidson to make the trip on the basis of assurance that a radio would be carried, and that the pilot would be either Michael de Blicquay or a certain other pilot. Trim said he would have advised Davidson to see another company if he had known Fecteau was to pilot the plane, because he did not know Fecteau, and because "you need not only flying experience, but you need a man who can size up a situation."

WATERFRONT PREPARED

VANCOUVER, March 12 (CP).—A. M. Tidey, chairman of the executive committee of the Vancouver Waterfront Protection Association, said today that preparations are complete for protection of Vancouver's waterfront industries in case of air raids.

Mr. Tidey said twenty-three firms located on the south shore were members of the association, and that fire drills are held regularly. He said numerous lectures have been delivered by air raid precaution officials.

He succeeds Group Capt. T. A. Lawrence, of Cremore, Ont., who is to become senior administration officer at No. 2 Training Command headquarters in Winnipeg.

Replacing Group Capt. McGill in command of No. 2 Movements Group, with headquarters at Halifax will be Wing Commander Cyril Malone, commanding officer at No. 3 Manning Depot, Edmonton. Group Capt. G. S. O'Brian, of Toronto, will relinquish command at No. 16 Service Flying Training School, Hagersville, Ont., to go overseas as commanding officer of a reception depot in Great Britain. He will be followed by Wing Commander Dave Harding, present commanding officer at No. 5 Initial Training School, Belleville, Ont.

The Belleville post will be assumed by Wing Commander J. M. Dobson, of Toronto and London, Ont., who has been stationed there as a member of the selection board.

Thermopylae Is Spreading Sails On Home Voyage

With anchors aweigh, a fair tide and a following breeze, the clipper ship Thermopylae and her crew of sea lovers began the homeward bound passage during the week after a several month stay in an unnamed overseas port. In command of Captain Goring, the Thermopylae will have completed, if everything goes well, an interesting and smart passage by the time signals are displayed for the local pilot sometime in May.

With the setting of the watches for the passage completed and the conclusion of some remarks by the "Old Man," the early watches were devoted to yarning. Captain J. A. Philipsen relating for the benefit of all hands his experiences delivering the Ss. Admiral Chase to the Carpenter interests of Sydney, Australia, shortly after the present war started.

NASSAU, Bahamas, March 12 (AP).—A submarine, operating in the Atlantic off the Bahamas, torpedoed a vessel last Friday, and thirty-eight survivors reached port here Saturday, British authorities announced today.

One member of the crew was killed when a torpedo struck the vessel. Another died before the survivors were brought from an outisland to Nassau on Sunday.

The captain and his thirty-seven fellow-survivors were met at the docks by the Duke of Windsor, Governor of the colony. The Bahamas lie 180 miles off the Florida coast.

British authorities did not disclose the name of the ship, its nationality or size.

PIONEER FLYER OF B.C. PASSES

William Stark Was First Canadian to Attain Aero Club Licence

VANCOUVER, March 12 (CP).—Funeral services will be held here Saturday for William M. (Billy) Stark, fifty-eight, Vancouver's first aviator and the first man in Canada to obtain an aviator's license from the Aero Club of America. Mr. Stark died yesterday.

Stark drove one of Vancouver's earliest automobiles through the city streets and several times was fined for exceeding the ten-mile-an-hour speed limit.

Stark got his flying license in 1912 in California, returning to Vancouver shortly after to make several flights on Lulu Island and from Hastings Park, from which only half the stumps had been cleared at that time. He also made flights in other cities in Canada.

In later years Mr. Stark became a master mariner and had charge of the "Mac and Mac," a coastwise power launch.

"Billy" Stark made several barnstorming visits to Victoria before the Great War started, attracting many spectators to Oak Bay Park, from which he took-off and landed on. His machine was a Curtiss-Wright biplane, which could lift the flyer and one passenger, who sat in seats rigged on the struts and to which both passenger and operator were securely strapped. A number of Victorians took advantage of rides offered during the exhibition flights and contributed to the general success of the occasions, providing a thrill of excitement for those who preferred to stay on the ground.

The vessel's master is Captain Arthur Ryning. The Mount McKinley went aground in Wrangell Narrows, Alaska, in April a year ago but was refloated.

Production of canned herring to the end of last week was 1,558,515 cases, and production during the week ending tomorrow is estimated by officials at about 15,000 cases.

Herring fishing on the Pacific Coast has now closed for the season.

ISLANDERS SEND OUT MUCH MAIL

Persons With Relatives in Jersey And Guernsey Should Write Often, Speaker Says

More letters are coming out of Jersey and Guernsey than out of any other enemy-occupied territory, according to P. W. Luce, Vancouver, secretary of the B.C. Channel Islanders' Society, who addressed members of the Victoria branch at the Women's Institute Rooms, 635 Fort Street, last night. One evacuee in England has received forty-three messages from relatives and friends in the islands, and nearly everybody who has written fairly frequently has had replies.

Many complain they have had no word from their folks since the Germans moved in, but on investigation, Mr. Luce pointed out, it is found that those people have written only once or twice, and perhaps only a short time ago. He estimated that only one letter in four is permitted an answer by the German censor, and it takes nine months or more for a reply to reach the Pacific Coast. He urged everyone interested to write at least once a month.

Although most of the letters are stereotyped in form, and the gist of these is that the writer is well, and life goes on much as usual (which is hardly the case), there is no ban on such strictly personal information as concerns birth, marriages and deaths, he said.

Remember Without Wanting

By MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS

(Copyright, 1942, by Margaret Gorman Nichols)

CHAPTER XLVII

Judith put out her hand and touched his arm. "Can I help? Is there anything I can do?"

He hesitated. Then, "You could come with me . . . It won't be pleasant."

"I've been in things that weren't pleasant. Have you told Katherine and Ralph?"

"Yes. They're waiting at the hotel for us."

"Then let's not waste time. I'll have Katherine call my mother."

"There's no train out of here. We'll have to drive. Are you sure you want to do this?"

"You said I could help. I want to help you."

"Thanks."

Half an hour later they were driving silently through the twilight. Of the tragedy he could not speak, she thought, lest the hurt little boy in him cry, lest the memories of a younger brother cause his hand on the wheel to become unsteady.

When darkness dissolved the twilight, he said, "If you'd like to stop somewhere for dinner . . . I suppose we'd better. I don't imagine at home they've thought of eating."

They had dinner at a roadside restaurant and were soon on the highway crowded with Saturday night traffic.

Only then did he speak and then hoarsely, jerkily. "Dick is—was a sort of favorite of mine. We were pals even though he was the one who was always getting into jams and accidents. He used to laugh about getting the wrong breaks. Mother begged him not to buy that plane. It was worn out. She'd never go out and look up at him when he said he'd be flying over our home. I can't believe it! I can't . . . If we could just get through and not be held up this way!"

"We've only about two more hours. Try to be patient."

"Dick said that this was too slow a way for him to travel . . . I'm afraid it's going to be pretty bad for you at home."

"It isn't bad for me at all, Stephen. There are things I can do, answer the telephone and the door and talk to people—things your family won't feel like doing."

"And she raised him for this to happen to him! I can't understand these things! It isn't right! It isn't fair! He's bigger than I am, six feet, three, and with everything to live for!"

"You aren't supposed to understand these things."

"I guess you thought I looked awfully funny when I came to you on the beach."

"I knew something was wrong."

He said, "Dick," under his breath and shook his head.

She knew how interminable the journey must seem to him and in the silence that settled between them again it occurred to her that a year ago she would not have come with him. The self-contained, satisfied Judith of a year ago who had never been hurt by anything would have regarded his suggestion to accompany him to a grief-stricken family as a breach of good manners. Were her sympathies nearer the surface than they had been a year ago? Because a year ago the ache of loss had been something of which she had only heard and read about. Funny, that she had to meet and love and lose Max so that she could be of small service to Stephen Larrabee in distress.

NELSON LAUNDRY IS WIPED OUT BY FIRE

NELSON, B.C., March 12 (CP).—The Nelson Laundry & Dry Cleaning Works operated by Max Woogman, formerly of Rossland, and H. Corbin, of Nelson, was wiped out by fire last midnight with an estimated loss of $8,000. The blaze began at the rear of the plant and was roaring through the building before it was noticed. Firemen managed to confine the fire to the laundry building, preventing it from spreading to adjoining premises.

QUALIFIED

A plumber joined the army and went in for his trade test. He was asked to make a joint in a lead pipe. When it was finished the officer put on his papers: "Joint very neatly done."

Three weeks later the man found himself head cook in the officers' mess.

NEW CHAIRMAN STUDIES FIELD

Advisory Committee on Raid Matters to Meet at Vancouver on Saturday

The first meeting of the newly-formed Advisory Council on British Columbia raid precautions will be held at the Hotel Vancouver at 10 a.m. on Saturday, W. C. Mainwaring, chairman of the group, announced here yesterday, after a series of talks with Provincial governmental and other officials.

"I am still trying to get a grasp of the whole situation, but I think that considerable progress has been made," Mr. Mainwaring commented after morning and afternoon meetings with the new Provincial Civilian Protection Committee.

In the morning Mr. Mainwaring met Premier John Hart and the control group now set up as the Provincial Civilian Protection Committee, and in the afternoon he went over the same ground with Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons, J. P. Hogg, and Inspector S. F. M. Moodie, of the same committee.

Attorney General Maitland, who is deputy chairman of the control committee, was reported ill with a cold at Vancouver. Headquarters of the advisory group may be established at Vancouver, it was indicated.

PRAISES WORK DONE

Arriving in the city to assume his voluntary duties, Mr. Mainwaring said he was impressed by the degree of work already done in the provincial organization of air raid precautions services. He paid tribute to Premier Hart, Attorney General Maitland and the Provincial Police, in this connection.

Attending the control committee meeting were Premier Hart, J. P. Hogg, Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons, and Inspector S. F. M. Moodie. Attorney General Maitland was on the Mainland, but will be present at the first meeting of the advisory council on Saturday morning there.

DID YOU TAKE A LAXATIVE TODAY?

Do you really know why constipation is so harmful?

You probably know that constipation sets up poisons in the large intestine or colon. But do you know that these poisons seep through the walls of the colon and infect the bloodstream? They set up toxic accumulations in kidneys and liver and are contributing causes of rheumatic pains, sciatica and backache.

Most laxatives only act in the colon. Kruschen does more. It is the laxative with a double action. Besides ridding the colon of stagnating waste matter, Kruschen's mineral salts have a diuretic action. They flush the kidneys, help to clear the bloodstream of all poisonous matter, and so protect your whole system from that form of infection.

You can get special value now in Kruschen. Ask your druggist for

CONVINCING

Tommy: "Garn, you're a coward! You're afraid to fight."

Willie: "Oh, no, I'm not. I could lick you any day of the week."

Tommy: "Then why don't you do it?"

Willie: "Because if my mother finds out I've been fighting she'll give me a tanning."

Tommy: "But how will she find out?"

Willie: "She'll see the doctor going to your house."

COULDN'T SLEEP COULDN'T WORK

What a relief to settle down to a real night's rest, and awake fully refreshed ready for the day's duties. I was tortured by fretful nights—tossing, turning — never comfortable. Half awake days—ever-tired, driving body and mind to work when they needed rest. "Try Dodd's Kidney Pills," said a friend — "it may be your kidneys." I'm glad I followed his advice as now I'm sleeping like a top—thanks to it!

USED HOUSES
MANY OF THESE HOUSES WERE BUILT FOR AN OWNER, not for speculation, and by workmen who were well paid and had genuine pride in their work. The TAXES on them are much lower than on new houses with the same accommodation. AT THE PRESENT TIME it is possible to secure new kitchen sinks, modern bath tubs and hardwood for the flooring. SIX MONTHS from now the story is likely to be different. After modernization the TOTAL COST will be much lower than that of a new house. Various materials for new construction are getting scarce and owners of new houses are unwilling to part with them, hence those wishing to purchase a home would be wise to consider one of the older houses. LET US KNOW YOUR REQUIREMENTS—we may be able to match them up with something on our books.

Limiting Taxis And U-Drive Cars

TORONTO, March 12 (CP)—To conserve rubber and gasoline orders have been issued that no new taxi-cabs or drive-yourself cars be put into use this year unless permission is obtained from James Stewart, administrator of services, Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Mr. Stewart made the announcement, which added that any company that put new vehicles into operation since the first of the year must withdraw them unless a permit is obtained.

HOME EXCITEMENT

"Personally I never stay out late at night."

"Why, don't late hours agree with you?"

"No, old boy; it's not the late hours that upset me so much as the excitement when I get home!"

Stocks Recover From Depression On Wall Street

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP).—The stock market today got a moderate and selective grip on recovery.

Many leaders dipped to new four-year lows at the start. Bids then came in for steels and motors, along with some recently weak blue chips, and improvement spread to other departments. At the best gains for favorites ranged from one to three points, although many issues continued to lag.

Dealings, fast for a while, slowed after midday and top marks in the majority of cases were reduced at the close. Scattered losers of two to three points were in evidence when the final gong sounded.

The Associated Press average was unchanged at 34.3. Transfers of 455,263 shares compared with 413,690 Wednesday.

Southern Railway and Santa Fe stepped up about a point each, while most other rails were slightly advanced despite a contra-seasonal decrease in last week's freight loadings.

Eastman Kodak came back 2 3-4 and DuPont 2. Lesser gains were retained by Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Western Union, Anaconda, United Aircraft, International Harvester, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Philip Morris and U.S. Rubber.

Dow Chemical was off 3 and Allied Chemical and American Tobacco "B" 2 1-2 each at the finish, all at new bottoms for the past year or longer. In the minus column also were Texas Co., American Can, Sears Roebuck, Westinghouse, Union Carbide and American Smelting.

ESQUIMALT XI GAINS FINAL

Defeats Mount Douglas in Colonist Cup Soccer—Young Gets Three

Upsetting the theory that a good big man is better than a good small man, a smaller and lighter Esquimalt High School soccer eleven yesterday defeated a heavier and larger Mount Douglas High School team, 3-1, in the semi-final round of the annual Colonist Cup soccer series yesterday at Royal Athletic Park.

And to further emphasize small men are the equal of big men, Edward Young, smallest member of the winning side, completed the "hat trick" by scoring all their goals.

Next Thursday Victoria High School, present holders of the silverware, will oppose Mount View High School at Royal Athletic Park. The winner will advance to the final against Esquimalt the following week.

Mount Douglas showed in front in the early minutes of yesterday's match when Malcolm Hall registered three minutes after the kick-off. It was the losers' only goal.

Edward Young equalized for Esquimalt about halfway through the half, and the rest interval arrived with the score unchanged.

In the final session the eventual winners marked up a pair of markers with Edward Young doing the scoring.

The match was fairly evenly contested, with the lighter and smaller Esquimalt students being quicker on the ball. They also proved capable of making better use of their scoring opportunities.

Supporters of the two schools were on hand, with the larger contingent from Mount Douglas certainly being the more boisterous.

Dave McMillan refereed, and the teams were:

Esquimalt — Harris, Mulcahy, St. Louis, Jenkins, Raftery, Christensen, Takata, Young, Ellis, Pecknold and Kent-Fawkes.

Mount Douglas—Gillespie, Youlden, Lamb, J. Ross, Hall, Lindquist, Crow, Ross, Rowe and Stewart.

OUGHT TO MERGE SELVES IN CAUSE

"Human Nature" Is Topic Discussed By Dr. A. J. Lavell Before Lions Club

Human nature finds its highest expression when individuals identify themselves with some cause or ideal greater than they, Rev. Dr. A. J. Lavell, Provincial Historian of Ontario and executive officer of its Parole Board, told the Lions Club at its luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room yesterday in an address entitled "Human Nature."

Admiral Nelson "lost himself in England" in flying his famous signal at Trafalgar; Socrates was great because he lost himself in the search for truth; David Livingstone lost himself in the soul of Africa, and the same spirit motivated the fight of the Spartans at Thermopylae, Dr. Lavell said.

"Identifying ourselves with an Empire never greater than at this hour—losing ourselves in Canada and our community—that is human nature at its highest," the speaker declared. "In the best of human nature there is that urge to change things for the benefit of mankind. This urge was that which inspired the pioneers to build up Canada."

Education, he remarked, is like a food. To be of benefit it must be taken and digested. Only in this way can individuals realize their potentialities to the full.

LONDON, March 12 (CP).—An official spokesman said today that Sir Stafford Cripps' visit to India would not be extended to Burma. The problems in the two countries, the spokesman said, are not the same.

Cage War Is Over; Series Will Open At Sports Centre

Basketball Squabble Finally Settled When Dominion President Takes a Hand—Victoria Dominoes And Vancouver Tookes Meet at Willows Tonight—Game Set for 8:45 o'Clock

With Charles McLachlan, of Vancouver, president of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, taking a hand in the proceedings, the squabble over referees for the provincial senior "A" men's cage play-downs was settled at noon yesterday. The Dominion prexy stepped into the picture when earlier efforts to reach a decision proved unsuccessful.

Tonight, with the shadows of many debates over the referee question behind them, Victoria Dominoes, Island champions, and Vancouver Tookes, Mainland titleholders, will meet at the Sports Centre in the first game of the best-of-seven series. The clubs will play on the same floor again tomorrow night. Game time is 8:45 o'clock each evening.

However, even at this late date the names of the officials have not been made public. Dave Nicol, manager of the locals, stated yesterday that the series would be refereed by either Tim McCulloch, of Seattle, and Joe Hall, of Vancouver, or two referees named by the Seattle board of basketball officials.

JAPANESE TURN IN MOTOR CARS

Police-Convoyed Lines of Automobiles Reach Here From Up-Island

Royal Canadian Mounted Police and an official custodian of enemy alien property had a busy time yesterday as Japanese from many points on Vancouver Island arrived at the cattle sheds at Willows Exhibition Grounds under police escort to surrender automobiles and trucks of all makes and descriptions.

Thirty-eight motor vehicles in all, including one motorcycle, were taken over by R.C.M.P. officers under a recent Federal order. Of these only two passenger cars and two trucks were turned in by city Japanese. Many other cars, both here and Up-Island were reported disposed of, either to new owners or by being turned back to dealers.

TWO CONVOYS

Two convoys arrived in Victoria during the day. The first came from Duncan at 11 a.m., under escort of one Provincial Police highway patrol car, and consisted of five passenger cars and one truck.

The second convoy, the main one from Up-Island, arrived shortly before 5 o'clock, escorted by three patrol cars, and included nineteen passenger cars and five trucks, headed by a Packard Eight and four trucks owned by the Royston Lumber Company, near Cumberland. A second Royston Lumber Company car, was a passenger coupe, was in the rear. In between were various types of cars from sleek late model sedans to a battle-scarred Model A Ford and a truck carrying a British-made motorcycle.

CARRIERS MAKE TRIP

Two lumber carriers, popularly known as "Ross carriers," and a truck carrying part of a crane, arrived without police escort.

The first car turned in was by a Victoria Japanese, and the first truck turned in was a dilapidated 1928 Ford farm truck.

By sunset, the official deadline, all cars surrendered by Vancouver Island Japanese were in police hands, but it was not until after dark that all had been checked and parked in long lines in the cattle sheds.

R.C.M.P. officers and civilian assistants were kept busy throughout the day checking registration numbers, tire and engine numbers, equipment and licences, and issuing receipts. Gas tanks were emptied, batteries disconnected and radiators inspected.

By 9:30 o'clock the confiscation procedure was complete. Japanese, in addition, surrendered five radios and three cameras, which provided one bit of humor for police officers. With a number of fine trucks in their custody, they will probably have to hire a truck to transport the radios to the R.C.M.P. office in the Central Building. Supervising operations was H. G. Hinton, representative of the custodian of enemy property.

Repeat Annual Ceremony

This picture of Governor Richard Blanshard, first governor of the Crown Colony of Vancouver Island, was presented to North Ward School by Post No. 3, Native Daughters of British Columbia, on Wednesday, the ninety-second anniversary of the governor's assuming office here. N. F. Forbes, school principal, is shown with Mrs. D. B. Nickerson, chief factor of the post, after the presentation ceremony in the school auditorium. Each year on March 11 the society presents a picture of Governor Blanshard to a school in the Victoria area.

McPHAIL CLAMPS DOWN

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Larry Macphail, Brooklyn Dodgers president, ordered Johnny Allen, veteran right-hand pitcher, out of uniform for breaking the club's training rules during the recent pre-season training sessions in Havana.

It was indicated Allen, picked up by the Dodgers after being cast off by the Cleveland Indians, faces a fine and suspension.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

COWICHAN

DUNCAN, March 11.—The Cowichan Women's Institute met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. G. Christmas, Mrs. A. X. Rey, the president, in the chair. Mrs. H. Corney was welcomed back after an illness, and a new member, Mrs. H. Excell, greeted. In response to a letter from the Cowichan Health Centre asking for assistance with the annual canvass for subscriptions, Mrs. A. X. Rey, Mrs. F. G. Christmas, Mrs. W. H. Hill and Mrs. George Colk volunteered to help. The sum of $10 will be sent to the Queen Alexandra Solarium toward the purchase of linen, and an Easter gift will be sent to the institute's adopted child there at that institution. A donation of two sacks of carrots was made recently. Mrs. G. Colk reported visiting two sick members during the last month; Mrs. Rey will be visitor for the next month. Mrs. E. Seeley reported on the rummage stall which the institute operates at the Market for the Red Cross and asked members for donations to the stall. Mrs. W. H. Hill received a collection of silver paper for the Solarium. The institute Easter hampers will be assembled by Mrs. G. Colk and Mrs. J. Mellings. A St. Patrick's Day tea will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Gilman on March 17, the proceeds to go to the refugee and prisoners of war funds. Mr. J. L. A. Gibbs, local A.R.P. warden, gave an instructive address on home precautions. At the conclusion of the meeting, tea was served by Mrs. E. F. Miller and Mrs. H. Eggleton.

Schubert Choir To Give Recital

The Schubert Club will present a recital at St. Luke's Anglican Church on Tuesday, March 17, at 8:15 p.m. This ladies' choir, comprised of thirty-three voices, will be conducted by Frederic King and accompanied by Mrs. Grace Timp. Assisting the choir will be Arnold Trevett, baritone.

Choruses, duets and solos will be rendered, some in keeping with the spirit of St. Patrick's Day. Negro spirituals, "Oh, Didn't It Rain?" and "Go Down, Moses," will be included in the programme, with Dudley Buck's "On the Sea" and Deems Taylor's "My Johnny Was a Shoemaker."
